Enhancing our community,

bettering health & wellness and creating even more fun for visitors!

BACKGROUND

The 11-mile Trout Run Trail is finally complete and is arguably one of the most beautiful trails in the Midwest. This “destination-trail” loops around the city of Decorah, population 8,200, guiding users in and out of the city to the countryside along rolling hills and steep bluffs along the Upper Iowa River and pristine fishing streams.

Already a visitor favorite, the trail is used year-round for hiking, biking, walking, running, cross-country skiing and rollerblading. Users of all ages and skill levels can use the trail. It’s also handicap accessible and loaded with fishing and canoeing access points as well as beautiful, one-of-a-kind art pieces.

Generous donations from people just like you as well as other caring individuals, businesses, organizations, the City of Decorah, Winneshiek County, state and federal grant sources, and foundation funding have made this dream a reality. But the work continues with trail maintenance and upkeep—a constant, and with new features and amenities necessary as we move forward. We thank you so much for considering investing in the Trout Run Trail.

EXPERIENCES AWAIT! Along the trail, you’ll find...

Not just for fun, the trail is used for exercise, rehabilitation from injury and stress relief. Mile markers are also on the trail for those using it for training purposes.

Handicap accessible fishing points can be found along the trail.

Switchbacks (meaning tight curves along the trail) will weave you back and forth along beautiful Iowa countryside

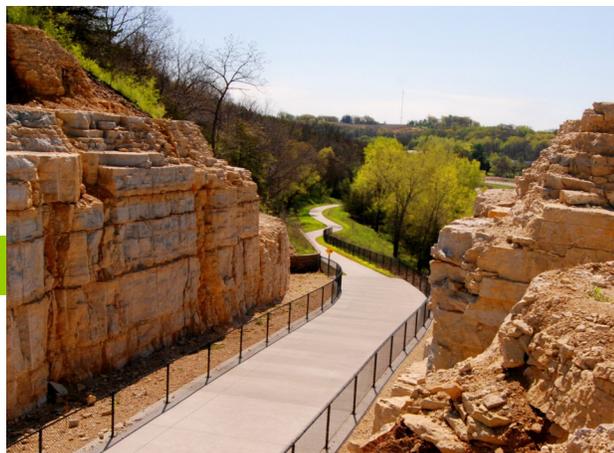

The kids will giggle as they feed the fish at the Decorah Fish Hatchery & Siewer Springs (pronounced see-ver). It's just $.25 for a handful of food.) Siewer Springs is also a great spot for picnics, family photos, trout fishing and bird watching.

Speaking of bird watching, the famous Decorah eagles’s nest is situated right along the trail! Thousands of visitors continue to flock to this attraction, coming from all across the United States and numerous foreign countries.

Stunning public art pieces are situated along the trail.

Benches and shelters provided by trail donors provide wonderful places to rest, take in a view or enjoy a picnic.

You will find easy-to-bike-to restaurants, gift shops, hotels, and the stunning city campground, Pulpit Rock, which welcomes more than 10,000 guests each year.
