Due to Patty's severe Down syndrome, she lived in various facilities and group homes since she was 5 years old. She spent her childhood and young adult life at the Woodward

Through using these services, Patty's quality of life improved greatly and she enjoyed the smaller facilities and being closer to home.

State Hospital and then later, was able to move closer to family and lived at the Harmony House in Waterloo, Larrabee Center in Waverly, and then the Crestwood House in Waverly. After moving to Crestwood House, Patty was able to spend her days at North Star Community Services in Waverly.

Through using these services, Patty's quality of life improved greatly and she enjoyed the smaller facilities and being closer to home. North Star provided Patty with a safe and loving place to spend her days and offered her the extra attention and care that she needed. Patty moved into the Dumont Wellness Center in April of 2006. Shortly after the move, on August 19, 2006, Patty passed away.

Patty's sister, Renae attributes North Star with enabling Patty to live life to the best of her abilities. North Star provided activities that she enjoyed and gave her a lot to look forward to. Renae started a fund with the Bremer County Community Foundation in memory of her sister that will provide continued support for the projects of North Star Community Services in Waverly. North Star provides wonderful care and services for people who need it, and with the help of this fund, they will be able to do so for years to come.
